David Coatney is Managing Director of HWCG LLC. HWCG is a consortium of 16 deepwater operators in the Gulf of Mexico who have come together with the common goal of quickly and comprehensively responding to a subsea well containment event to protect people, property and the environment.

Mr. Coatney has been HWCG's Managing Director since its formation in 2011. He has more than 39 years of experience in the oil and gas industry, both in the United States and overseas. In previous roles, Coatney has served as an international upstream oil and gas asset consultant, Vice President of Production for Swift Energy and in various management and engineering capacities for Marathon Oil Company, where he worked for 29 years.

Coatney has been integrally involved in emergency preparedness and response for more than 24 years. He has acted as an Incident Commander—both domestically and abroad—and has led many successful responses in operational, natural disaster, well control and civil unrest incidents.

Coatney holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Petroleum Engineering from Louisiana State University. He is a member of the Society of Petroleum Engineers, the American Petroleum Institute and the Association of International Petroleum Negotiators.
