Part III Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Check if Schedule O contains a response to any question in this Part III

1 Briefly describe the organization's mission:
The mission of The Nature Conservancy is to conserve the lands and waters on which all life depends.

2 Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ?  Yes  No
If "Yes," describe these new services on Schedule O.

3 Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services?  Yes  No
If "Yes," describe these changes on Schedule O.

4 Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations and section 4947(a)(1) trusts are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported.

General update on program accomplishments from Nature Conservancy President and CEO Mark Tercek: Thank you very much for your commitment to The Nature Conservancy this past year. I am very proud of what we accomplished together in 2012. We ensured the long-term protection of some of the world's most valuable lands and waters. We influenced important conservation policies, legislation and government investments that will strengthen the natural systems that underpin our prosperity and well-being. And we broadened support for conservation, developing new partnerships with the science community, business sector and general public around the world. Just as significant, everyone at the Conservancy staff, volunteer leaders and partners came together to agree on an ambitious but achievable plan for how we pursue our conservation mission in a rapidly changing world. Together we have committed to work at a whole new scale. You'll see this new framework reflected in "The Year in Conservation" achievements that follow, which highlight the broad solutions that will define our work. First, we protect and restore important natural areas. Second, we equip people, governments and businesses with the tools to make better, smarter, more cost-effective decisions about the way they treat and use nature. Finally, we will grow the constituency for conservation, demonstrating that

Part IV Supplemental Information

Complete this part to provide the descriptions required for Part I-A, line 1; Part I-B, line 4; Part I-C, line 5; Part II-A; and Part II-B, line 1. Also, complete this part for any additional information.

Schedule C, Part II-B, Line 1 - The lobbying work of The Nature Conservancy advances the tax exempt purpose of the organization focusing on conservation of land and water. The Nature Conservancy devoted .46% of its exempt purpose expenditures to attempting to influence legislation in Fiscal Year 2012. Continuing the work from the prior year, the Conservancy continued to advocate for legislation that secures critical natural habitat protection and restoration with a particular emphasis on the RESTORE Act, which would provide funding for major restoration in the Gulf of Mexico as a result of the BP spill, funding for the U.S. Federal Land and Water Conservation Fund, reauthorization of conservation programs contained in the U.S. Farm Bill program, and various state legislative initiatives that primarily focused on fresh water and marine conservation. Last year's increased emphasis on protecting habitat and wildlife corridors affected by the increased energy siting activities continues with federal and state legislative work in places such as Nebraska, Ohio, Maryland, Wisconsin and Canada. Overall, policy initiatives included adoption of tools that improve decision making about sustainable management of natural resources like fresh water, watersheds, marine habitats, and coastal areas and land across the world. Most activities took place in the United States, including the Federal, state and local level. Most activity involved legislatures but the Conservancy also supported ballot measures in FY12 for the 2011 and 2012 ballots in New Jersey, California, Texas, Alabama and North Dakota. Examples of policies advanced include increased funding for states' environmental protection agencies; reauthorization and/or increased funding for land conservation programs in the states, such as Florida, Hawaii, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Vermont; major funding and improvements in fresh water conservation in states such as California, Hawaii, Indiana, Iowa, Maryland, Michigan, Nebraska, North Carolina, Texas, and Virginia; marine and coastal protection policies in states such as South Carolina, Washington, California, Connecticut, New Jersey, Virginia and Oregon; programs to protect natural native resources from invasive species; land conservation easements policies; prescribed burn funding; timber harvest planning; renewable energy policies that include consideration of habitat conservation; and bison reintroduction policies. Some places in the U.S. where conservation policy efforts were focused included Cache River of Arkansas, Sacramento Delta, San Joaquin River, Delaware River Basin, Everglades, Great Lakes, Northern Tallgrass Prairie of Minnesota, Gulf of Maine, Follensby Pond and Rennselaer Plateau of New York, Hells Canyon and Table Rock of Oregon, Gulf of Mexico, St. Croix Brule Forest in Wisconsin, and Chesapeake Bay. The Nature Conservancy does a minor share of its legislative lobbying in countries such as Brazil, Chile, and China where conservation experiences are shared to adopt sustainable land and water use policy with long term funding methods for protection, restoration and management of nature's resources. Some volunteers, but no more 750 volunteer hours, were used by the Conservancy to influence legislation.

Schedule D, Part II, Line 3 - During the tax year 11 easements were transferred or sold - all to qualified organizations as defined in IRC Sec. 170(h)(3) and the related regulations and all as required by and consistent with the conservation action plan for the properties. Easements transferred or sold were: (1) Teneja Corridor Christ TNC C.E.; (2) Teneja Corridor Greer C.E.; (3) Greater Pawnee (Kaufman/GNCF Real Estate, LLC); (4) Taunton River Watershed (Bridgewater Lakeside LLC); (5) Johnson & Bunker Creek (Brett); (6) French Creek (Morris Easements) 12/26/1974; (7) French Creek (Morris Easements) 12/28/1997; (8) French Creek (Morris Easements) 12/28/1978; (9) French Creek (Morris Easements) 12/30/1976; (10) 3 Bar X Ranch Inc./RMEF; and (11) Lander Foothills 3 Bar X. During the tax year 7 easements were modified. All modifications either enhanced or were neutral with respect to the conservation purposes of the easements. Easements modified were: (1) Devil's Den (Lachat 2) to permit non-commercial agricultural uses on portions of the easement; (2) Devils Den (Lachat 3) to permit non-commercial agricultural uses on portions of the easement; (3) Great Island Marshes (Peterson) to provide for public hunting and fishing as provided by law, expand area where trails may be placed, installation of conservation related signage, and allow for the use of herbicides to control invasive species; (4) Avalon Plantation to allow for a utility right of way on a 1.347 acre portion of the easement; (5) Frank B. Powell Lumber Co. Inc. 1 to make a ministerial correction to an exhibit which failed to identify all permitted access roads; (6) Crommet & Lubberland Creek (Rollins) to update the easement terms and allow public access on 31.183 acres; and (7) Barnard Fen (Blanton) to add 30 new acres to become part of the conservation easement and strengthen wording of Limited Public Access. During the tax year one easement was terminated as required by the US Fish and Wildlife Service in conjunction with its acceptance of title to the property covered by the easement into the Conte NWR. Easement terminated was Salmon Cove (Haase).

Schedule D, Part II, Line 5 - The Nature Conservancy's written policy regarding the periodic monitoring, inspection, violations, and enforcement of the conservation easements it holds is governed by our Standard Operating Procedure, Conservation Easements and Deed Restrictions. Excerpts from the procedure regarding frequency and IRS Reporting follow. A. Monitoring Frequency: Except as provided in Section III herein, all Conservation Interests held by the Operating Unit will be monitored at least once each calendar year (annually), except that the Operating Unit Director, with appropriate Conservancy scientist input, may authorize less frequent monitoring for an individual Conservation Interest based upon a written analysis detailing the scientific and/or other justifications for such reduced frequency of monitoring. In no event, however, will the required monitoring frequency for a Conservation Interest be less than once every three years. B. Information Gathered for IRS Reporting Purposes: The IRS requires that the tax returns of non-profits include a range of information on the conservation easements it holds, or did hold at any time during the reporting tax year ("IRS-Reportable easements"). These requirements include a report of total staff hours and a list of expenses associated with monitoring and enforcing those easements. They also include a number of other questions, some of which are answered by required fields in the monitoring reports, and some of which are answered from Conservation Land System records. Note that the IRS does not require reporting regarding monitoring of deed restrictions. Therefore monitoring of deed restrictions should not be considered to be "IRS-Reportable". 1. IRS-Reportable easements are those which the Conservancy currently holds or did hold during the current tax reporting year. Since Conservancy tax reporting is on the fiscal year and easement monitoring is on the calendar year, Operating Units must consult with their Conservation Land System staffer to determine when an easement that has been transferred to another organization by the Conservancy ceases to be "IRS-Reportable". 2. Time and Expense Reporting related to easements is required by the IRS. For every IRS-Reportable conservation easement all staff hours spent on "easement monitoring and enforcement" must be appropriately coded in bi-weekly time reports. Further, any funds spent on related costs, including travel expenses, must also be appropriately coded in the General Ledger. A dedicated sub-1 code (-8888) has been established for this purpose. Each Operating Unit must ensure that the budget centers utilized by members of each Monitoring Team have that sub-1 code established and available, and that it is utilized. This important information must be captured so that it can be included in our annual tax filing. With respect to Enforcement excerpts from the Standard Operating procedure follow. The holder of a conservation easement ("Easement") or a deed restriction ("Restriction") (collectively the "Conservation Interests") has a responsibility to enforce the terms of the Conservation Interest in perpetuity. The integrity of a Conservation Interest should never be compromised to avoid litigation. The success the Conservancy has in defending its Conservation Interests has a profound impact on both our organizational reputation and the effectiveness of easements generally. A well-articulated enforcement standard operating procedure and consistent application will help to ensure the ongoing effectiveness of the Conservancy's easement program. Prompt compliance with this procedure is required to ensure that the conservation purposes and values reflected in the Easement or Restriction are not lost through the passage of time.

Schedule D, Part II, Line 9 - The Conservancy records land and land interests at cost if purchased or at fair value at the date of acquisition, if all or part of the land was received as a donation. Fair value is generally determined by appraisal at the time of acquisition and is not subsequently adjusted. Upon sale or gift, the book value of the land or land interest is reported as a program expense; and the related proceeds, if any, are reported as revenue in the consolidated statement of activities. Conservation land is real property with significant ecological value. These properties are either managed in an effort to protect the natural biological diversity of the property, or transferred to other organizations who will manage the lands in a similar fashion. Conservation easements are comprised of listed rights and/or restrictions over the owned property that are conveyed by a property owner to The Conservancy, almost always in perpetuity, in order to protect the owned property as a significant natural area, as defined in federal tax regulations. These intangible assets may be sold or transferred to others so long as the assignee agrees to carry out, in perpetuity, the conservation purposes intended by the original grantor. Conservation easements, by their very nature, do not generate material amounts of cash inflow annually.

Schedule D, Part V, Line 4 - The Endowment includes approximately 770 individual endowment funds. The Endowment provides stable financial support to a wide variety of programs and activities in perpetuity, playing a critical role in enabling the Conservancy to achieve its mission. Programs supported by the Endowment include restoring, monitoring, and managing natural areas owned by the Conservancy and others, as well as, many other activities and actions vital to the preservation of natural diversity. The Endowment includes both donor-restricted endowment funds and funds designated by the Board of Directors (Board) to function as endowments. Net assets associated with endowment funds, including Board-designated endowment funds, are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

Schedule D, Part X, Line 2 - The Conservancy has been granted an exemption from Federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Internal Revenue Service has classified The Conservancy as other than a private foundation. The Conservancy pays a nominal amount of tax relating to several unrelated business income activities, primarily rental income from debt-financed property. The Conservancy takes no tax positions that it considers to be uncertain.

Part IV Supplemental Information. Complete this part to provide the information required in Part I, line 2, and any other additional information.

Schedule I, Part I, Line 2 - The Nature Conservancy's procedure for monitoring grants within the United States is governed by the Government Grants, Cooperative Agreements, Contracts and Other Agreements Negotiation and Administration Standard Operating Procedure which is excerpted as follows: All staff responsible for government grants, cooperative agreements, contracts, and other agreements will negotiate and administer such awards in an efficient and effective manner. The Conservancy has a Grants Service Network to ensure that this occurs, including assuring compliance with all applicable funder statutes and regulations. The attached table assigns performance responsibilities to the key positions involved in the negotiation and administration of the following types of agreements: 1. agreements to the Conservancy from United States federal, state and local government agencies, multilateral agencies, and other national and local governments; and 2. the Conservancy's grants of funds to other entities, including those funded by a government agency, multilateral organization, other non-profit organization, private foundation, or private donor. Conservancy grants to other entities are also subject to the "Grants by the Nature Conservancy to Grantees" Standard Operating Procedure. In order to effectively manage these agreements and to ensure accountability, the Conservancy employs a team approach during all stages of the process, from pre-proposal discussions with potential funding agencies through final closeout of specific agreements. Working as a team assures that the Conservancy successfully secures government funding for conservation projects and carries out these projects in compliance with both external and internal requirements, negotiating the best possible agreements and ensuring the projects are completed on time and within budget. Essential team members are a Project Manager, a Grants Specialist, and an Attorney. As appropriate, team members at any stage of the process should solicit input from staff in their respective Operating Units, such as finance, philanthropy, external affairs or other conservation staff. Purpose: To ensure compliance with government laws and regulations and to ensure the efficient and effective management of funds provided by U.S. federal, state and local governments, other national and local governments, and multilateral sources by the Conservancy, as well as Conservancy funds provided to other entities.

Part III Supplemental Information

Complete this part to provide the information, explanation, or descriptions required for Part I, lines 1a, 1b, 3, 4a, 4b, 4c, 5a, 5b, 6a, 6b, 7, and 8, and for Part II. Also complete this part for any additional information.

Schedule J, Part I, Line 1a - Consistent with the Conservancy's Standard Operating Procedure for Travel and Expense Reporting, and in very limited circumstances, Key Employees have purchased 1st Class airfare. The circumstances included: 1) when no economy fares were available and the employees business schedule required them to take the flight; and 2) when the employees changing business schedule required them to book a refundable ticket and there was no difference in price between first class and economy.

Schedule J, Part I, Line 3 - The President and Chief Executive Officer's compensation is reviewed annually by the Board of Directors. In order to established the reasonableness of his overall compensation, the Nature Conservancy engages an independent compensation consultant who utilizes Forms 990 from other organizations, as well as, compensation surveys and studies.

Schedule J, Part I, Line 4 - Pursuant to IRC Sec. 457(b), the Nature Conservancy maintains a supplemental deferred compensation plan in which certain officers and key employees are eligible to participate.

Form 990, Header, Line B - Schedule G was amended in order to file a more complete and accurate return.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Indonesian Debt-for-Nature Swap - Through the Tropical Forest Conservation Act, the Conservancy and WWF reached agreement with the U.S. and Indonesian governments to redirect a portion of Indonesia's foreign debt to forest conservation, resulting in an investment of USD $28.5 million for tropical forest conservation in three districts of Indonesian Borneo. Hadza Homeland - The Conservancy assisted the nomadic Hadza people in legally documenting and protecting more than 50,000 acres of their wilderness homeland in Tanzania and perpetuating their sustainable way of life. This precedent-setting designation was the first time land rights were transferred to indigenous people in Tanzania and represents years of hard work by the Hadza and our partners the Ujamaa Community Resources Trust and the Dorobo Fund. Macy's Cause Marketing - The Nature Conservancy was the cause marketing partner of Macy's national campaign Brasil: A Magical Journey, which ran from April 22 to July 15, 2012. The Conservancy was featured in a national advertising campaign and on signage in more than 650 stores across the United States. The promotion raised more than $3 million for conservation of the Amazon rainforest. China Global Conservation Fund - Conservancy leaders in China have established a fund to promote investment in global conservation by China's private sector. The first supported project is the establishment of a predator-proof sanctuary for Africa's rarest antelope species, the hirola, in Kenya's far north in cooperation with Northern Rangelands Trust and the Ishaqbini Hirola Community Conservancy. Urban Youth Program Expansion - The Conservancy's Leaders in Environmental Action for the Future (LEAF) works with environmental high schools to combine classroom lessons with real-world conservation work experience for urban youth at Conservancy projects. In 2012, LEAF expanded from the New York tri-state area to also serve students in Georgia, Massachusetts, Illinois, California and Washington. Picnic for the Planet - An estimated 30,000 people in nearly 60 countries on all seven continents joined the Conservancy in celebrating Earth Day through Picnic for the Planet. From eating ice cream in Antarctica to watching chefs compete in Connecticut, supporters made the connection between the nature we love and the food she provides. TNC Scientist Reporter - Conservancy lead scientist M. Sanjayan was named a science and environmental contributor for CBS News. Sanjayan's insights on issues ranging from the threats of ocean pollution to the promise of sustainable ranching will now reach an estimated audience of 6 million viewers per broadcast. Latin America Conservation Council - The Conservancy brought together an unprecedented group of Latin American and other business and political leaders to help solve Latin America's biggest conservation challenges. Co-chairs of the new Latin American Conservation Council are Brazil's Alain Belda, managing director, Warburg Pincus LLC, and Henry M. Paulson Jr., 74th secretary of the U.S. Treasury. Nature Works Everywhere - The Conservancy worked with Discovery Education to launch a dynamic online education program exploring the role nature plays in our everyday lives. Nature Works Everywhere enriches classroom instruction with free interactive lesson plans, global video tours, meet-the-scientist vignettes and conservation games to excite students about nature and conservation. Use Your Outside Voice - The Conservancy launched Use Your Outside Voice, an advocacy campaign and website that urges citizens to support federal and local conservation policies by calling their elected officials, signing action pledges and sharing stories about why they care about nature. The site has generated more than 10,000 pledges, 1,000 stories and more than 100,000 page views online to date. Speaking for the Trees - In celebration of the movie Dr. Seuss' The Lorax, whose title character "speaks for the trees," Universal Pictures helped the Conservancy plant 150,000 trees in Brazil's endangered Atlantic Forest and the Dr. Seuss estate followed with an additional 10,000 trees. Through a Facebook promotion, Universal also encouraged fans to post photos online and support the Conservancy's Plant a Billion Trees campaign. Nonprofit of the Year - The Direct Marketing Association named The Nature Conservancy the 2012 Nonprofit Organization of the Year for its groundbreaking and forward-thinking fundraising, diversifying its reach to new audiences and its global expansion of supporter programs around the world. Nonprofit Tech 2.0 also named the Conservancy one of the top 10 nonprofits that excel at using social media.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 11b - Review Process for Form 990: The Form 990 is prepared, based on financial statements audited by PricewaterhouseCoopers, and other internally generated information by the Nature Conservancy's Director of Tax services. The Form is further reviewed by the Conservancy's Internal Audit Department (which provides independent verification of certain information), and members of Senior Management. As outlined in its charter, the Audit Committee then reviews any issues or judgments relating to disclosures in the Conservancy's Forms 990. Finally, copies are provided to the full Board of Directors for their comment prior to filing with the IRS.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c - The Nature Conservancy's monitoring and enforcement of its compliance policy is governed by its Conflict of Interest Standard Operating Procedure ("SOP") which is excerpted as follows: a conflict of interest exists when an individual who is responsible for acting in the best interests of The Nature Conservancy has another interest or loyalty that could influence or impair, or may appear to influence or impair, the individual's ability to act in the best interests of The Nature Conservancy. The term "conflict of interest" includes actual conflicts of interest potential conflicts of interest (situations that could become an actual conflict in the future based upon foreseeable events or the passage of time); and perceived conflicts of interest (situations that others could reasonably perceive to be, or have the appearance of a conflict of interest) Guiding principles: All Conservancy staff, Board Members and Trustees are responsible for identifying conflicts of interest, and disclosing them to the appropriate Conservancy manager or attorney. Conservancy employees must determine whether the conflict can or should be avoided to protect the best interests of the Conservancy. If it is not reasonably possible to avoid a particular conflict of interest or it is not in the Conservancy's best interest to avoid it, all staff, Board members and Trustees are responsible for fashioning appropriate strategies to mitigate and manage the potential adverse consequences of the conflict of interest, and obtaining approval as described in this Standard Operating Procedure before proceeding with the affected activity. Identifying Conflicts of Interest Before engaging in any activity on behalf of the Conservancy, Conservancy staff, Board Members and Trustees must identify and disclose any situations that could give rise to a conflict of interest or the appearance of a conflict. The Disclosure Form should be completed as early as possible by parties with whom the Conservancy plans to enter into a transaction. The Disclosure Form is not the only way that the Conservancy may become aware of a conflict. Thus, even if the Disclosure Form does not reveal a conflict, but you are aware of one, you must proceed in accordance with this SOP. Conflicts of interest are not always clear-cut and easy to define. They require case by case analysis. The Conservancy is concerned with the disclosure and management of conflicts of interests involving "covered persons." However, not all activities or transactions with a covered person generate conflicts of interest. Conversely, a particular factual situation may generate a conflict of interest even when no covered person is involved. Early consultation with a senior manager or Conservancy attorney can assist in analyzing the conflict of interest and strategies for avoidance or mitigation. This SOP sets forth specific guidance for some areas of potential conflicts (see Types of Conflicts below). These are only examples, and it is the responsibility of each individual to be sensitive to any situation that creates or appears to create a conflict of interest. Reporting, Review and Approval Process: If a conflict is identified, the Conservancy staff member who is responsible for initiating and/or overseeing the proposed activity must report the conflict to his or her supervisor and the appropriate Conservancy attorney. Before proceeding with the proposed activity, review and approval to proceed must be obtained as described in this section. While a request for approval of a proposed course of action is pending or being considered, the individual involved in the conflict must refrain from participating in the activity and/or withdraw from any discussion of or decision on the matter. 1. Conflicts Committee Review: The Conflicts Committee reviews and makes determinations about all conflicts of interest involving the Conservancy. All conflicts of interests reviewed by the Conflicts Committee involving a Substantial Contributor shall be reported by the General Counsel or the Chief Compliance Officer to the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors, disclosing the nature of the conflict, parties involved, and the disposition of the conflict by the Conflicts Committee. 2. Review by Audit Committee: All conflicts of interest involving a member of the Board of Directors, a Director's family members, and a Director's Controlled Entities shall be submitted to the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors for review and disposition. Referral to the Audit Committee is made by the General Counsel on behalf of the Conflicts Committee along with the recommendation for disposition made by the Conflicts Committee. 3. Guiding Principles: In evaluating conflict situations in order to determine an appropriate course of action, the Conservancy will be guided by the following criteria and considerations: Availability of other alternatives that would avoid the conflict of interest; Compliance with the letter and the spirit of all applicable laws relevant to all parties to the transaction; Compliance with Conservancy Policies and Standard Operating Procedures; Adherence to the Conservancy's values, such as "Integrity Beyond Reproach;" Avoidance of private benefit and inurement; Transparency; Conservation benefits likely to be achieved; Consequences to the Conservancy from declining to participate; Financial or other benefits to the Conservancy; Financial or other benefits to the other party; Nature and extent of risk to the Conservancy's reputation; and Ability to mitigate reputational risks. 4. Forms: Responsibility for Recommended Action. Employees are required to complete and submit the Request for Conflicts Committee Approval form when seeking review and approval of a course of action involving an actual, potential, or perceived conflict of interest. The completed form should recommend a course of action that is designed to minimize the conflict's potential adverse consequences. The appropriate Conservancy attorney will review this form to ensure a thorough disclosure of the relevant information and analysis of the conflict. Other staff who approve the content of these forms and submission for approval are, by approving the forms, indicating that they support and are responsible for the recommended course of action.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15 - Review Process for Officer and Key Employee Compensation: The President and Chief Executive Officer's, as well as, members of the Executive Team's performances and compensation are reviewed annually by the Board of Directors. The performance and compensation of all other Key Employees is reviewed annually by their direct supervisor. All compensation amounts are based on information provided by an independent compensation consultant who utilizes comparable data from Form 990's from other organizations and compensation survey's and studies to ensure reasonableness.

First Program Service Accomplishments Description

nature is not a special interest, but matters to everyone with whom we share this planet. By 2050, the planet will need to support an estimated 9 billion people. That's nearly three times the global population at the time of the Conservancy's founding in 1951. Looking ahead, soaring demand for food, space, energy and water, coupled with the impacts of climate change, will strain our planet's resources like never before. Yet we remain hopeful. Through our unique combination of science, partnerships, innovation, business skills, bold thinking and focus on tangible, lasting results, we can achieve our goals. We can marshal the resources, we have the experience and skill, and we have you-our supporters-who have made us the organization we are today. Together, we can save the lands and waters on which all life depends. More information on our conservation successes can be found on our Web site at www.nature.org.

Conserving the Crown of the Continent: The Conservancy's Montana Chapter and Canada Program worked in partnership with the Nature Conservancy of Canada to halt the threat of mining in the pristine lands that border the North Fork of the Flathead River. The partnership enabled the two countries to add another 389,000 protected acres to the magnificent Crown of the Continent. New Chilean National Park - The Conservancy donated 24,000 acres of native forest of its Valdivian Coastal Reserve in southern Chile for the creation of the Alerce Coastal National Park, which protects 61,000 acres of some of the world's last temperate rainforests, including alerce trees thousands of years old. Protected Panther Pathway - The Conservancy orchestrated a complicated land transaction in Florida, raised $2 million toward the purchase and brought federal and state partners together to acquire 1,278 acres critical to the future of the endangered Florida panther. Missouri Prairie Restorations - American bison set foot on Dunn Ranch Prairie for the first time since the 1840s, and plans are in place to restore Topeka shiners to prairie streams. At Wah'Kon-Tah Prairie, the American burying beetle became the first federally endangered species to be reintroduced in Missouri, and 62 prairie chickens were released to reestablish the critically endangered bird. Federal Forest Program - The Conservancy led the charge for full support of the Collaborative Forest Landscape Restoration Program, one of the few Forest Service programs to receive increased investment in the fiscal 2012 budget. Part of it was due to a comprehensive report we produced late last year. Mongolian Grassland Reserves - Mongolia's parliament announced more than 3,700,000 acres of new national protected lands. Nearly a quarter of these are grassland reserves identified as ecologically important in a scientific assessment conducted by the Conservancy. Whooping Crane Properties - Habitat for rare whooping cranes was protected when the Conservancy worked with partners and private landowners to protect three critical properties on the Texas Gulf Coast where the iconic birds spend their winters. Largest Australian Protected Area - The Conservancy worked with Indigenous Traditional Owners, the Central Land Council and the national government to support the declaration of the largest protected area on Australian land. The Southern Tanami Indigenous Protected Area, located in the Northern Territory, spans an astounding 25 million acres. Moosehead Lake Forest Easement - A partnership among the Conservancy, Plum Creek and the Forest Society of Maine secured a 363,000-acre easement-the second largest in U.S. history-in Maine's Moosehead Lake region, filling a missing piece that connects more than 2 million acres from the St. John River headwaters to Mount Katahdin. Great Lakes Restorations - Three states are working together with farmers to restore the western Lake Erie basin to reduce runoff into critical aquatic systems. And a Conservancy-led project demonstrating sustainable forestry in Michigan's Two Hearted River watershed is helping to reboot the forest's natural diversity while providing much-needed income to the local economy. TNC and Dow Join Forces - The Nature Conservancy, the Dow Chemical Company and The Dow Chemical Company Foundation launched a breakthrough collaboration to demonstrate that valuing nature can be a corporate priority that supports a company's global business strategy. Over the course of five years, the organizations are working together to develop tools and demonstrate models for valuing nature in business decisions. Pilot projects in Texas and Brazil are under way, and valuable analysis and results are already beginning to emerge. China-U.S. Partnership - Secretary of State Hillary Clinton oversaw the signing of a new EcoPartnership agreement between the Conservancy's Great Rivers Partnership and China's Yangtze River Basin Fisheries Resource Management Commission. The agreement seeks to improve the health and management of both countries' rivers, including the Yangtze and Mississippi. Energy Development Impact - The Conservancy is measuring the energy development footprint in eight key energy states in the Central Appalachians. The assessment will identify potential cumulative impacts of natural gas, wind and coal development, and provide context for engaging public and private partners in forest and freshwater resource protection. Asian Forestry Reform - The Conservancy-led Responsible Asia Forestry and Trade (RAFT) program has been held up as a model for globally traded commodities. Through the program, nearly 1.3 million hectares of tropical rainforest in Southeast Asia have been certified as sustainably managed by the Forest Stewardship Council, with 2 million hectares more on the way. New Finance Mechanism - An innovative new financial product, the Conservation Note, was launched to provide environmentally conscious individuals, foundations and corporations with an opportunity to support our mission through high-impact investments in the Conservancy. The Note is a fixed income product that helps channel capital to conservation-critical lands and waters, providing increased capacity to finance high-priority conservation projects around the world. Maine Dam Removal - The Conservancy was a critical partner in the demolition of the Penobscot River's Great Works Dam in Maine, the first dam removed in the Penobscot River Restoration Project. The project is aimed at reviving native fish populations and cultural traditions, as well as creating economic and recreational opportunities, while maintaining existing hydropower production in the state's largest watershed. Patagonia 15 Million Acres Campaign - The Conservancy, world-renowned outdoor gear company Patagonia Inc. and Argentine ranch consultant Ovis XXI launched a pioneering sustainable grazing initiative. Producers will maintain and restore their natural grasslands using sustainable grazing models developed by the Conservancy and Ovis XXI, creating a positive impact on 15 million acres of Patagonian grasslands in the next five years. California Solar Energy - The departments of Interior and Energy released a revised plan for solar energy development and infrastructure in southwestern deserts that incorporates the Conservancy's science and analysis. Smart renewable energy siting in the Mojave Desert-ground zero for solar energy-will help shape the future of energy development across the southwestern United States. Continued on Schedule O.

Application for Extension of Time To File an Exempt Organization Return

OMB No. 1545-1709

▶ File a separate application for each return.

- If you are filing for an Automatic 3-Month Extension, complete only Part I and check this box
- If you are filing for an Additional (Not Automatic) 3-Month Extension, complete only Part II (on page 2 of this form).

Do not complete Part II unless you have already been granted an automatic 3-month extension on a previously filed Form 8868.

Electronic filing (e-file). You can electronically file Form 8868 if you need a 3-month automatic extension of time to file (6 months for a corporation required to file Form 990-T), or an additional (not automatic) 3-month extension of time. You can electronically file Form 8868 to request an extension of time to file any of the forms listed in Part I or Part II with the exception of Form 8870, Information Return for Transfers Associated With Certain Personal Benefit Contracts, which must be sent to the IRS in paper format (see instructions). For more details on the electronic filing of this form, visit www.irs.gov/efile and click on e-file for Charities & Nonprofits.

Part I Automatic 3-Month Extension of Time. Only submit original (no copies needed).

A corporation required to file Form 990-T and requesting an automatic 6-month extension—check this box and complete Part I only

All other corporations (including 1120-C filers), partnerships, REMICs, and trusts must use Form 7004 to request an extension of time to file income tax returns.

General update on program accomplishments from Nature Conservancy President and CEO Mark Tercek: 2011 was a milestone year for The Nature Conservancy, marking the conclusion of our first 60 years and a big step toward our centenary in 2051. We have celebrated our successful history this year, but I am eager to get on with our future. It will be a challenging future, one that demands us to work smarter, bigger and faster. At our founding in 1951, the 2.6 billion people who inhabited the Earth were grappling with the challenges of a changing, postwar world. By 2051, the global population will have more than tripled to upwards of 9 billion people, putting ever more pressure on the natural world to provide food, water and a stable climate to support us and the diversity of animals and plants with which we share the planet. That challenge means working on a much larger scale, and it means not just protecting pristine land, but helping people be more productive on existing agricultural land so expansion can be controlled. And it means testing and proving new strategies that can then be rapidly expanded to similar places worldwide. The clock is ticking. For the Conservancy, the key challenge is to demonstrate that our mission is not a "special interest"; it is of crucial interest to everyone. We must engage more people from all walks of life in our work and demonstrate the value of nature to an

Complete this part to provide the descriptions required for Part I-A, line 1; Part I-B, line 4; Part I-C, line 5; and Part II-B, line 1i. Also, complete this part for any additional information.

Schedule C, Part II-B, Line 1 - The lobbying work of The Nature Conservancy advances the tax exempt purpose of the organization focusing on conservation of land and water. The Nature Conservancy devoted .95% of its exempt purpose expenditures to attempting to influence legislation in Fiscal Year 2011. Continuing the work from the prior year, the Conservancy continued to advocate to preserve or restore funding for critical natural habitat protection and restoration as the economy continues to recover with a particular emphasis on major programs like the U.S. Federal Land and Water Conservation Fund and various state programs. A major initiative was restoration efforts for the Gulf of Mexico responding to both the oil spill in 2011 and the long term degradation of the environment. Increased energy siting activities, such as transmission lines, expanded drilling and new technologies also invited new policy discussions about development with consideration for large scale natural areas and resources, like fresh water. Overall, policy initiatives included adoption of tools that improve decision making about management of natural resources like fresh water, watersheds, marine habitats, and coastal areas and land across the world. Most activities took place in the United States, including the Federal, state and local level. Most activity involved legislatures but the Conservancy was pleased to also support statewide ballot measures in Iowa, Oregon, Maine, Rhode Island and California where voters supported adoption of policy that advances conservation of natural resources. Some local measures were also supported successfully. Examples of policies advanced include conservation through land trust and easement legislation; tax credits for landowners using land sustainably; energy siting policy with criteria for reducing land and water impact; groundwater management; coastal restoration and protection; federal lands and state parks sustainable funding for stewardship to preserve long term value to environment and people of rely and enjoy it; nature-based adaptation strategy for climate change; open space acquisition planning and funding; agricultural practices and support that result in sustainable harvests and long term health of the environment such as water sources; invasive species controls; large ecoregional planning and management such as the Great Lakes; oyster, crab and clam restoration programs as part of large scale efforts to restore stronger coastal shores and lagoons; marine spatial planning and coastal zone management; dam removals or management to improve aquatic health; prescribed fires to imitate natural burns for forest health while reducing opportunities for uncontrolled burns threatening human well being; bat white nose syndrome threatening extinction of natural populations; prairie dog and black footed ferret conservation; subaqueous land management; estuary, vernal pools, and riparian protection; salmon population recovery program, conservation focused timber harvesting; regional greenhouse emission programs; and wetlands restoration. Some places in the U.S. where conservation policy efforts were focused included Sacramento River, Connecticut River, San Luis Valley, Delaware River Basin, Everglades, Cypress Creek National Wildlife Refuge, Spunky Bottoms in Illinois, Ohio River, Hoosier National Forest, Mississippi River, its tributaries and associated ecosystems like Hatchie River, Boone River, Upper Cedar River, Upper Yazoo River, Cache River and Obion Creek; Northern Tallgrass Prairie National Wildlife Refuge, Atchafalaya Basin, Maine's 400,000 acre Moosehead conservation plan, Taunton River, Blackfoot Valley, Rocky Mountain front, Conte Refuge, Long Island Pine Barrens, Carman's River, Hells Canyon, Big Creek in Oregon, San Antonio conservation lands, Puget Sound, South Florida and Hawaii coral reef communities, Canaan Valley National Wildlife Refuge, Monongahela National Forest, Door County wetlands of Wisconsin, Sheridan County conservation spaces and Sheep Mountain in Wyoming, and the Chesapeake Bay. The Nature Conservancy does a small amount of its lobbying in countries such as Brazil, Chile, Bahamas, and China where conservation experiences are shared to adopt sustainable land and water use policy with long term funding methods for protection, restoration and management of nature's resources. Some volunteers, but no more than 500 hours, were used by the Conservancy to influence legislation to protect existing government conservation programs and pursue opportunities for increased protections.

Schedule D, Part II, Line 3 - During the tax year 7 easements were transferred or sold - all to qualified organizations as defined in IRC Sec. 170(h)(3) and the related regulations and all as required by and consistent with the conservation action plan for the properties. Easements transferred or sold were: (1) Holly Shelter (McLean Family Farms); (2) Bellamy River (Valpey); (3) Crommet & Lubberland Creek (Popov 3); (4) Crommet & Lubberland Creek (Popov 4); (5) Great Bay Megasite (Macintosh); (6) Adirondack Mountains (Finch Pruyin); and (7) Cheat/Spruce Mountain (Deike). During the tax year 6 easements were modified. All modifications either enhanced or were neutral with respect to the conservation purposes of the easements. Easements modified were: (1) Lassen Mill Creek Seward to subordinate the easement to the National Park Service fee interest in the land; (2) Ordway Swisher Biological Station to redefine types of allowed structures and square footage restrictions in order to better manage the land for conservation values; (3) Michigamme Highlands (Richert) in order to allow for completion of a cabin within existing building envelope in exchange for extinguishment of development rights in undisturbed area of property; (4) Tallgrass Aspen Parklands (Lenadrich, Ltd. 14 & 15) in order to make a ministerial correction on existing easement; (5) Deep Pond/School House Pond (FWA Heirs, Inc.) in order to correct survey and mapping errors; and (6) St. Helena Estuary (Igleheart) in order to allow for expansion of existing structure in exchange for extinguishment of future development rights elsewhere on the property. During the tax year one easement was terminated as required by the National Park Service in conjunction with its acceptance of title to the property covered by the easement. Easement terminated was: (1) Croom Conservation Easement.

Schedule D, Part II, Line 5 - The Nature Conservancy's written policy regarding the periodic monitoring, inspection, violations, and enforcement of the conservation easements it holds is governed by our Standard Operating Procedure, Conservation Easements and Deed Restrictions. Excerpts from the procedure regarding frequency and IRS Reporting follow. A. Monitoring Frequency: Except as provided in Section III herein, all Conservation Interests held by the Operating Unit will be monitored at least once each calendar year (annually), except that the Operating Unit Director, with appropriate Conservancy scientist input, may authorize less frequent monitoring for an individual Conservation Interest based upon a written analysis detailing the scientific and/or other justifications for such reduced frequency of monitoring. In no event, however, will the required monitoring frequency for a Conservation Interest be less than once every three years. B. Information Gathered for IRS Reporting Purposes: The IRS requires that the tax returns of non-profits include a range of information on the conservation easements it holds, or did hold at any time during the reporting tax year ("IRS-Reportable easements"). These requirements include a report of total staff hours and a list of expenses associated with monitoring and enforcing those easements. They also include a number of other questions, some of which are answered by required fields in the monitoring reports, and some of which are answered from Conservation Land System records. Note that the IRS does not require reporting regarding monitoring of deed restrictions. Therefore monitoring of deed restrictions should not be considered to be "IRS-Reportable". 1. IRS-Reportable easements are those which the Conservancy currently holds or did hold during the current tax reporting year. Since Conservancy tax reporting is on the fiscal year and easement monitoring is on the calendar year, Operating Units must consult with their Conservation Land System staffer to determine when an easement that has been transferred to another organization by the Conservancy ceases to be "IRS-Reportable". 2. Time and Expense Reporting related to easements is required by the IRS. For every IRS-Reportable conservation easement all staff hours spent on "easement monitoring and enforcement" must be appropriately coded in bi-weekly time reports. Further, any funds spent on related costs, including travel expenses, must also be appropriately coded in the General Ledger. A dedicated sub-1 code (-8888) has been established for this purpose. Each Operating Unit must ensure that the budget centers utilized by members of each Monitoring Team have that sub-1 code established and available, and that it is utilized. This important information must be captured so that it can be included in our annual tax filing. With respect to Enforcement excerpts from the Standard Operating procedure follow. The holder of a conservation easement ("Easement") or a deed restriction ("Restriction") (collectively the "Conservation Interests") has a responsibility to enforce the terms of the Conservation Interest in perpetuity. The integrity of a Conservation Interest should never be compromised to avoid litigation. The success the Conservancy has in defending its Conservation Interests has a profound impact on both our organizational reputation and the effectiveness of easements generally. A well-articulated enforcement standard operating procedure and consistent application will help to ensure the ongoing effectiveness of the Conservancy's easement program. Prompt compliance with this procedure is required to ensure that the conservation purposes and values reflected in the Easement or Restriction are not lost through the passage of time.

Schedule D, Part II, Line 9 - The Nature Conservancy's reporting of conservation easements can be explained by the text of the following footnote from the audited financial statements. The Conservancy records land and land interests at cost if purchased or at fair value at the date of acquisition, if all or part of the land was received as a donation. Fair value is generally determined by appraisal at the time of acquisition and is not subsequently adjusted. Upon sale or gift, the book value of the land or land interest is reported as a program expense; and the related proceeds, if any, are reported as revenue in the consolidated statement of activities. Conservation land is real property with significant ecological value. These properties are either managed in an effort to protect the natural biological diversity of the property, or transferred to other organizations who will manage the lands in a similar fashion. Conservation easements are comprised of listed rights and/or restrictions over the owned property that are conveyed by a property owner to The Conservancy, almost always in perpetuity, in order to protect the owned property as a significant natural area, as defined in federal tax regulations. These intangible assets may be sold or transferred to others so long as the assignee agrees to carry out, in perpetuity, the conservation purposes intended by the original grantor. Conservation easements, by their very nature, do not generate material amounts of cash inflow annually.

Schedule D, Part V, Line 4 - The Endowment includes approximately 770 individual endowment funds. The Endowment provides stable financial support to a wide variety of programs and activities in perpetuity, playing a critical role in enabling The Conservancy to achieve its mission. Programs supported by the Endowment include restoring, monitoring, and managing natural areas owned by The Conservancy and others, as well as many other activities and actions vital to the preservation of natural diversity. The Endowment includes both donor-restricted endowment funds and funds designated by the Board of Directors (Board) to function as endowments. Net assets associated with endowment funds, including Board-designated endowment funds, are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

Schedule D, Part X, Line 2 - The Conservancy has been granted an exemption from Federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Internal Revenue Service has classified The Conservancy as other than a private foundation. The Conservancy pays a nominal amount of tax relating to several unrelated business income activities, primarily rental income from debt-financed property. The Conservancy takes no tax positions that it considers to be uncertain.

Part V Supplemental Information

Complete this part to provide the information required by Part I, line 2 (monitoring of funds); Part I, line 3, column (f) (accounting method); Part II, line 1 (accounting method); Part III (accounting method); and Part III, column (c) (estimated number of recipients), as applicable. Also complete this part to provide any additional information (see instructions).

Schedule F, Part I, Line 2 - The Nature Conservancy's procedure for monitoring grants outside the United States is governed by the Government Grants, Cooperative Agreements, Contracts and Other Agreements Negotiation and Administration Standard Operating Procedure which is excerpted as follows: All staff responsible for government grants, cooperative agreements, contracts, and other agreements will negotiate and administer such awards in an efficient and effective manner. The Conservancy has a Grants Service Network to ensure that this occurs, including assuring compliance with all applicable funder statutes and regulations. The attached table assigns performance responsibilities to the key positions involved in the negotiation and administration of the following types of agreements: 1. agreements to the Conservancy from United States federal, state and local government agencies, multilateral agencies, and other national and local governments; and 2. the Conservancy's grants of funds to other entities, including those funded by a government agency, multilateral organization, other non-profit organization, private foundation, or private donor. Conservancy grants to other entities are also subject to the "Grants by the Nature Conservancy to Grantees" Standard Operating Procedure. In order to effectively manage these agreements and to ensure accountability, the Conservancy employs a team approach during all stages of the process, from pre-proposal discussions with potential funding agencies through final closeout of specific agreements. Working as a team assures that the Conservancy successfully secures government funding for conservation projects and carries out these projects in compliance with both external and internal requirements, negotiating the best possible agreements and ensuring the projects are completed on time and within budget. Essential team members are a Project Manager, a Grants Specialist, and an Attorney. As appropriate, team members at any stage of the process should solicit input from staff in their respective Operating Units, such as finance, philanthropy, external affairs or other conservation staff. Purpose: To ensure compliance with government laws and regulations and to ensure the efficient and effective management of funds provided by U.S. federal, state and local governments, other national and local governments, and multilateral sources by the Conservancy, as well as Conservancy funds provided to other entities.

Schedule J, Part I, Line 3 - The President and Chief Executive Officer's compensation is reviewed annually by the Board of Directors. In order to establish the reasonableness of his overall compensation, the Nature Conservancy engages an independent compensation consultant who utilizes Forms 990 from other organizations, as well as, compensation surveys and studies.

Schedule J, Part I, Line 4 - Pursuant to IRC Sec. 457(b), the Nature Conservancy maintains a supplemental deferred compensation plan in which certain officers and key employees are eligible to participate.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Background information on The Nature Conservancy: Our Mission: The mission of The Nature Conservancy is to conserve the lands and waters on which all life depends. Why We're Successful: we work to conserve the Earth's ecologically important lands and waters in local places in more than 30 other countries around the world and across all 50 U.S. states; we develop, analyze and use the best available science to prioritize our global conservation work and to ensure we implement the right strategies in the right places; we achieve tangible, lasting and measurable conservation results at scales that matter and in ways that will endure; we create innovative conservation solutions that benefit nature and enhance the well-being of people who depend on vital natural resources for their lives and livelihoods; we use our creativity, diplomacy, global reach and proven experience to tackle some of the world's most complex conservation challenges; we work respectfully and collaboratively with all sectors of society to achieve meaningful conservation results; and by showing that tangible, large-scale conservation results can be delivered, we provide hope that the Earth's special places can be restored and preserved for future generations. Accountability The Nature Conservancy is highly rated by charity watchdog organizations: the Nature Conservancy meets all of the Better Business Bureau (BBB) Wise Giving Alliance Standards for Charity Accountability; The American Institute of Philanthropy has awarded The Nature Conservancy a "Top-rated Charity" rating and the Nature Conservancy holds high charity ratings with Charity Navigator. Values: Integrity Beyond Reproach: We will meet the highest ethical and professional standards in all of our organizational endeavors and, in doing so, we hold ourselves accountable to our mission and to the public; Respect for People, Communities, and Cultures: Enduring conservation success depends on the active involvement of people and partners whose lives and livelihoods are linked to the natural systems we seek to conserve. We respect the needs, values and traditions of local communities and cultures, and we forge relationships based on mutual benefit and trust; Commitment to Diversity: We recognize that biological diversity conservation is best advanced by the leadership and contributions of men and women of diverse backgrounds, beliefs and cultures. We will recruit and mentor staff to create an inclusive organization that reflects our global character; One Conservancy: Our strength and vitality lie in being one organization working together in local places and across borders to achieve our global mission. We value the collective and collaborative efforts that are so essential to our success; and Tangible, Lasting Results: Our mission of preserving biological diversity guides everything we do. We use the best available science, a creative spirit, and a non-confrontational approach to craft innovative solutions to complex conservation problems at scales that matter and in ways that will endure

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 11a - Review Process for Form 990: The Form 990 is prepared, based on financial statements audited by PricewaterhouseCoopers, and other internally generated information by the Nature Conservancy's Director of Tax services. The Form is further reviewed by the Conservancy's Internal Audit Department (which provides independent verification of certain information), and members of Senior Management. As outlined in its charter, the Audit Committee then reviews any issues or judgments relating to disclosures in the Conservancy's Forms 990. Finally, copies are provided to the full Board of Directors for their comment prior to filing with the IRS.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c - The Nature Conservancy's monitoring and enforcement of its compliance policy is governed by its Conflict of Interest Standard Operating Procedure ("SOP") which is excerpted as follows: a conflict of interest exists when an individual who is responsible for acting in the best interests of The Nature Conservancy has another interest or loyalty that could influence or impair, or may appear to influence or impair, the individual's ability to act in the best interests of The Nature Conservancy. The term "conflict of interest" includes actual conflicts of interest potential conflicts of interest (situations that could become an actual conflict in the future based upon foreseeable events or the passage of time); and perceived conflicts of interest (situations that others could reasonably perceive to be, or have the appearance of a conflict of interest) Guiding principles: All Conservancy staff, Board Members and Trustees are responsible for identifying conflicts of interest, and disclosing them to the appropriate Conservancy manager or attorney. Conservancy employees must determine whether the conflict can or should be avoided to protect the best interests of the Conservancy. If it is not reasonably possible to avoid a particular conflict of interest or it is not in the Conservancy's best interest to avoid it, all staff, Board members and Trustees are responsible for fashioning appropriate strategies to mitigate and manage the potential adverse consequences of the conflict of interest, and obtaining approval as described in this Standard Operating Procedure before proceeding with the affected activity. Identifying Conflicts of Interest Before engaging in any activity on behalf of the Conservancy, Conservancy staff, Board Members and Trustees must identify and disclose any situations that could give rise to a conflict of interest or the appearance of a conflict. The Disclosure Form should be completed as early as possible by parties with whom the Conservancy plans to enter into a transaction. The Disclosure Form is not the only way that the Conservancy may become aware of a conflict. Thus, even if the Disclosure Form does not reveal a conflict, but you are aware of one, you must proceed in accordance with this SOP. Conflicts of interest are not always clear-cut and easy to define. They require case by case analysis. The Conservancy is concerned with the disclosure and management of conflicts of interests involving "covered persons."

However, not all activities or transactions with a covered person generate conflicts of interest. Conversely, a particular factual situation may generate a conflict of interest even when no covered person is involved. Early consultation with a senior manager or Conservancy attorney can assist in analyzing the conflict of interest and strategies for avoidance or mitigation. This SOP sets forth specific guidance for some areas of potential conflicts (see Types of Conflicts below). These are only examples, and it is the responsibility of each individual to be sensitive to any situation that creates or appears to create a conflict of interest. Reporting, Review and Approval Process: If a conflict is identified, the Conservancy staff member who is responsible for initiating and/or overseeing the proposed activity must report the conflict to his or her supervisor and the appropriate Conservancy attorney. Before proceeding with the proposed activity, review and approval to proceed must be obtained as described in this section. While a request for approval of a proposed course of action is pending or being considered, the individual involved in the conflict must refrain from participating in the activity and/or withdraw from any discussion of or decision on the matter. 1. Conflicts Committee Review: The Conflicts Committee reviews and makes determinations about all conflicts of interest involving the Conservancy. All conflicts of interests reviewed by the Conflicts Committee involving a Substantial Contributor shall be reported by the General Counsel or the Chief Compliance Officer to the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors, disclosing the nature of the conflict, parties involved, and the disposition of the conflict by the Conflicts Committee. 2. Review by Audit Committee: All conflicts of interest involving a member of the Board of Directors, a Director's family members, and a Director's Controlled Entities shall be submitted to the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors for review and disposition. Referral to the Audit Committee is made by the General Counsel on behalf of the Conflicts Committee along with the recommendation for disposition made by the Conflicts Committee. 3. Guiding Principles: In evaluating conflict situations in order to determine an appropriate course of action, the Conservancy will be guided by the following criteria and considerations: Availability of other alternatives that would avoid the conflict of interest; Compliance with the letter and the spirit of all applicable laws relevant to all parties to the transaction; Compliance with Conservancy Policies and Standard Operating Procedures; Adherence to the Conservancy's values, such as "Integrity Beyond Reproach;" Avoidance of private benefit and inurement; Transparency; Conservation benefits likely to be achieved; Consequences to the Conservancy from declining to participate; Financial or other benefits to the Conservancy; Financial or other benefits to the other party; Nature and extent of risk to the Conservancy's reputation; and Ability to mitigate reputational risks. 4. Forms: Responsibility for Recommended Action. Employees are required to complete and submit the Request for Conflicts Committee Approval form when seeking review and approval of a course of action involving an actual, potential, or perceived conflict of interest. The completed form should recommend a course of action that is designed to minimize the conflict's potential adverse consequences. The appropriate Conservancy attorney will review this form to ensure a thorough disclosure of the relevant information and analysis of the conflict. Other staff who approve the content of these forms and submission for approval are, by approving the forms, indicating that they support and are responsible for the recommended course of action.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15 - Review Process for Officer and Key Employee Compensation: The President and Chief Executive Officer's, as well as, members of the Executive Team's performances and compensation are reviewed annually by the Board of Directors. The performance and compensation of all other Key Employees is reviewed annually by their direct supervisor. All compensation amounts are based on information provided by an independent compensation consultant who utilizes comparable data from Form 990's from other organizations and compensation survey's and studies to ensure reasonableness.

First Program Service Accomplishments Description

Description

increasingly urban populace often far removed from the nature that sustains them. We must build productive partnerships with the range of private and public institutions that have the greatest potential to affect change on a global scale with us. And we must cultivate and inspire the next generation of conservationists around the world to carry the torch forward. 2011 was a successful year for the Conservancy, but each achievement grew from the innovations that preceded it over our 60-year past. Our greatest hope is that these achievements help leave a more sustainable world for future generations. More information on our conservation successes can be found on our Web site at www.nature.org. Volunteers Help Restore the Gulf - In January 2011, more than 500 volunteers descended upon Helen Wood Park in Mobile Bay, Ala., to kick off the ambitious 100-1000: Restore Coastal Alabama effort by restoring an oyster reef. By July, Conservancy staff was already seeing sediment accumulation, coastal marsh and seagrass recovery and an increase in birds and fish using the area. These early signs indicate that the living shoreline has already started fulfilling its ecological purpose, reinforcing the validity of pursuing future projects in the Gulf region. Groundbreaking Partnership in Australia - TNC Australia forged a groundbreaking new partnership to protect 450,000 ecologically crucial acres of northern Australia. The deal brought together the Conservancy, NGO partners, the Australian government and the Indigenous Land Corporation-an entity that helps Indigenous Australians acquire and manage land for cultural and economic benefits. This is the first time in Australia that land has been acquired to hand back to Traditional Owners for conservation management, and the partnership will both provide sustainable livelihoods and protect Fish River's unique and threatened wildlife. Santa Fe Launches Water Fund - One of the biggest threats to drinking water supplies in the western United States is the critical condition of the region's forests. When these areas are affected by catastrophic fires, ash and sediment can clog reservoirs-costing millions to clean up. The city of Santa Fe, N.M., is not waiting for this grim scenario to become a reality. With the Conservancy's help, it has created a "water fund" that applies fees from water users to protect the forest that surrounds their water supplies. Projects in Brazil Win Environmental Prizes - Last November, Brazil's Ministry of the Environment awarded its prestigious Chico Mendes Environmental Prize to two of our flagship conservation initiatives in the Amazon-the Amazon Indigenous Training Center (CAFI) and the municipality of Paragominas, for the Green Paragominas initiative. The prize, founded in 2002 to honor the renowned Brazilian environmentalist and rubber tapper Chico Mendes, is awarded yearly by a panel of experts for outstanding environmental initiatives in the Amazon. New Coastal Resilience Tool for Long Island Sound - The Conservancy's new, free Web-based tool lets coastal towns in Connecticut and New York explore the possible effects of sea level rise and stronger storms. Coastalresilience.org shows different flooding scenarios and the potential effects on communities, natural resources and infrastructure. Using this tool, the Conservancy is now working with decision-makers to plan ways to protect communities and the natural features that safeguard them. Costa Rica's Largest Marine Protected Area - In March, Costa Rica protected more than 2 million acres as an addition to the Cocos Island National Park. The area is used by huge populations of hammerhead sharks, silky sharks, loggerhead turtles, dolphins and other migratory pelagics. It took six years for the Costa Rican government, NGOs, universities and other sectors to create the country's largest marine protected area. The Conservancy's technical studies on Cocos' biological wealth proved crucial to the protection effort. Our Scientists Discover and Rediscover Species - On a summer 2010 expedition in the Peruvian Amazon, Conservancy scientist Paulo Petry netted three specimens of an armored, wood-eating catfish that is new to science (but not to the indigenous people on the Purus River). An August 2010 search for rare tree snails in Hawaii by Conservancy staff turned up instead Clermontia peleana singuliflora, a flower last seen on the island in 1909 and long presumed extinct. New Elephant Corridor in Kenya - The Nature Conservancy joined with the Lewa Wildlife Conservancy, the Mount Kenya Trust and Save the Elephants to restore a traditional elephant migration route that had been obstructed by agricultural fences and roads. The Mount Kenya Elephant Corridor, which includes a highway underpass, will bring two elephant populations back together and help relieve mounting human-wildlife conflicts in Kenya. China Establishes Conservation Plan - The Conservancy's China Blueprint-a massive survey of conservation priorities released in late 2010-played a big role in forming China's national conservation plan. The plan will guide conservation in China for years to come, and calls for a halt to the loss of all biodiversity in that country by 2020 in addition to setting a number of priority conservation areas. Minnesota Protects Drinking Water - The Conservancy worked with a strong coalition of hunters, anglers, business leaders and conservationists to conserve more than 189,000 acres of Minnesota's northern forests largely located in the watershed of the Upper Mississippi River, which provides drinking water to millions of people. It is the largest conservation effort ever undertaken by the state of Minnesota, and was made possible by the Clean Water, Land and Legacy Amendment, which the Conservancy helped pass in 2008.

Part II Declaration of Officer

6  I authorize the U.S. Treasury and its designated Financial Agent to initiate an ACH electronic funds withdrawal (direct debit) entry to the financial institution account indicated in the tax preparation software for payment of the organization's federal taxes owed on this return, and the financial institution to debit the entry to this account. To revoke a payment, I must contact the U.S. Treasury Financial Agent at 1-888-353-4537 no later than 2 business days prior to the payment (settlement) date. I also authorize the financial institutions involved in the processing of the electronic payment of taxes to receive confidential information necessary to answer inquiries and resolve issues related to the payment.

If a copy of this return is being filed with a state agency(ies) regulating charities as part of the IRS Fed/State program, I certify that I executed the electronic disclosure consent contained within this return allowing disclosure by the IRS of this Form 990/990-EZ/990-PF (as specifically identified in Part I above) to the selected state agency(ies).

Under penalties of perjury, I declare that I am an officer of the above named organization and that I have examined a copy of the organization's 2009 electronic return and accompanying schedules and statements and to the best of my knowledge and belief, they are true, correct, and complete. I further declare that the amount in Part I above is the amount shown on the copy of the organization's electronic return. I consent to allow my intermediate service provider, transmitter, or electronic return originator (ERO) to send the organization's return to the IRS and to receive from the IRS (a) an acknowledgement of receipt or reason for rejection of the transmission, (b) an indication of any refund offset, (c) the reason for any delay in processing the return or refund, and (d) the date of any refund.

General update on program accomplishments from Nature Conservancy President and CEO Mark Tercek: As I reflect on this past year, I am proud of all that we accomplished in 2010. Stronger financial markets in FY10 helped investments rebound while spending reductions taken in FY09 took full effect, declining operating expenses by 9 percent. After nearly 60 years in operation, the Conservancy continues to be a strong force for conservation. The 10 achievements described here represent a sample of the work accomplished in the past year by The Nature Conservancy in partnership with countless individuals, organizations, governments, businesses and those who fund us. This list exhibits the range and scope of where and how we work - at individual sites and on massive scales, securing the pristine and restoring the damaged, advancing scientific discovery and informing local and global policy. We still buy land as we did at the start, but our mission has driven us to innovate and expand conservation's reach. Through these and other projects, we are helping change the way people view nature and what they believe is possible through conservation. More information on (Continued on Schedule O, Statement 1)

Part IV Supplemental Information

Complete this part to provide the descriptions required for Part I-A, line 1; Part I-B, line 4; Part I-C, line 5; and Part II-B, line 1i. Also, complete this part for any additional information.

Schedule C, Part II-B, Line 1 - The lobbying work of The Nature Conservancy advances our exempt purpose mission by focusing on the conservation of lands including forests, grasslands, arid lands and water, including fresh water and marine. The Nature Conservancy devoted 1.37% of its exempt purpose expenditures to attempt to influence legislation during Fiscal Year 2010. In Fiscal Year 2010, The Nature Conservancy dedicated its efforts to defending current funding for conservation, particular land acquisition or restoration, or trying to restore funding cut during the economic downturn. The focus on U.S. federal legislation was funding for public protection of critical habitats, in programs and laws including the Land and Water Conservation Fund; Forest Service; Forest Legacy; U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, various international conservation funding programs; National Wildlife Refuge System; conservation on or near Department of Defense lands; fisheries habitat restoration; States and Tribal Wildlife Grants and Action Plans; and marine and coral reef conservation programs. In addition to U.S. federal funding, state governments cut or considered reducing funding for long-standing programs such as a Florida Forever, Alabama's Forever Wild, New York's Environmental Protection Fund, Hawaii's Natural Areas Reserve and North Carolina's conservation trust fund. Increased funding for conservation lands was pursued but not yet successful in states like California, Rhode Island,

Idaho, Kentucky and South Carolina. A ballot measure authorizing a $400 million bond for conservation in New Jersey passed in 2009. The Conservancy invested in various ballot measures that will be on the November 2010 ballot, including an initiative in Oregon that makes permanent an existing funding source for conservation from lottery revenue; a measure in Iowa that establishes a state conservation funding mechanism but requires tax legislation to create the revenue; a ballot measure for additional bond authorization for conservation in New Jersey; and various measures at the local level increasing conservation funding through bonds or other funding mechanism. The Conservancy is seeking to protect habitats that are natural pristine areas and working lands, such as ranchland, where conservation can be achieved while serving economic purposes. In addition to funding, states sought to advance other legal tools that protect these critical areas of biodiversity. Conservation easements were the focus of many state efforts, including those in Missouri, Colorado, Connecticut, New Mexico, New York, and West Virginia. The Conservancy emphasized development or improvement of programs that better manage or protect natural resources including: invasive species controls, such as emerald ash borers damaging North American forests and the Asian carp harming the Great Lakes; effective fire management programs to prevent large scale forest habitat destruction; dam management to protect waterways and watershed habitats; comprehensive marine spatial planning tools to serve the long term needs of ocean ecosystems; strong environmental data requirements for energy siting policies; sustainable fisheries management; and floodplain management with conservation criteria. Examples of the important natural resources that were sought to be protected included Mississippi River and its surrounding environments; Great Lakes; California's Smith River and Santa Clara River watershed; the Mid-Atlantic's Chesapeake Bay; the Ohio River; Wisconsin's Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest; Connecticut River; Idaho's McArthur Lake and Owyhee public lands; Illinois's Cypress Creek National Wildlife Refuge; Gulf of Mexico, New Hampshire's Great Bay; Florida's Everglades; Oregon's Hells Canyon and Table Rocks; and Washington's Puget Sound. Climate change legislation that would establish limits on carbon emissions and a reliable source of revenue for habitat preservation and adaptation, including carbon sequestration through forests and grasslands and appropriate use of renewable energies that did not further degrade existing critical ecoregions with biodiversity and ecosystem services, was a major priority for the Conservancy at the U.S. federal and state level. The Conservancy weighed in on the pros and cons of alternative energy sources, such as wind, solar and biomass, where unintended consequences could harm grasslands, fisheries, bird, bat and other species and habitats. While comprehensive U.S. legislation failed, state efforts have been incrementally successful and inroads were made in providing sound science on the strategies for responding to climate change challenges. While the overwhelming majority of the Conservancy's activities have been within the U.S., activities in other countries have included issues surrounding ecotourism, land and fisheries conservation management strategies, and in some cases funding. Many of the government policy tools traditionally used can be adopted without legislation in countries where the Conservancy works. However, a significant amount of the legislative activities outside the U.S. was focused on a very local basis in parts of China where local councils and voters determine the means to implement the National Park Management Regulations. Volunteers are a large part of the Conservancy's comprehensive efforts for habitat restoration and protection activities and professional services. Some volunteers, but no more 1000 hours, were used by the Conservancy to influence legislation to protect existing government conservation programs and pursue opportunities for increased protections.

Schedule D, Part II, Line 3 - During the tax year 9 easements were transferred or sold - all to qualified organizations as defined in IRS Sec. 170(h)(3) and the related regulations and all as required by and consistent with the conservation action plan for the properties. Easements transferred or sold were: (1) Northern Great Lakes Forest, UP (Heartwood FLG 3); (2) Altamaha (Blue Sky/Penholloway) East Coast 1; (3) Altamaha River (Blue Sky/Penholloway) East Coast 2; (4) Barton River Marsh (Lyons); (5) Picassic River (Schneer 3); (6) Kanarra Mountain (Ence); (7) Johnson & Bunker Creek (Morong); (8) St. Helena Estuary (Sand Creek Farm, LLC); and (9) Big Darby Creek (Conie). During the tax year 7 easements were modified. All modifications either enhanced or were neutral with respect to the conservation purposes of the easements. Easements modified were: (1) Millpond Plantation-Perry (Wadelee) in order to eliminate firebreaks in the natural areas and to permit harvest of all non-longleaf pine and hardwoods except in research areas; (2) Savannah River Uplands (Hammond fka Runyan) Woodside in order to increase the acreage by an additional 32.69 acres and make it subject to an original easement over a smaller tract; (3) Scott (Eagle Ridge Ranch Scott Property Baseline Report) in lieu of condemnation, fee owner deeded 2.12 acres (out of 8,562 acres under easement) to WYDOT for a culvert and road widening and TNC's easement was extinguished over this land as part of that process; (4) Cove Point (Columbia LNG Corporation) in order to allow Dominion Cove Point to perform shoreline habitat and beach restoration activities to enhance the conservation of the property; (5) Brule River (D'Autremont) in order to correct an error in the legal property description; (6) Rocky Mountain Front (Deep Creek Grazing Association Inc) in order to add an additional 40 acres to coverage under the existing easement; and (7) Chickahominy River (Rogers-Chenault Inc) modified on a 1.7 acre portion of the 94.3 acre tract in accordance with a pre-existing transmission right of way agreement. During the tax year 1 easement was terminated at the request of the US Fish and Wildlife Service in conjunction with its acceptance of the property covered by the easement. Easement terminated was: (1) Lower CT River-Salmon River (Elm Camp Company/Johnson) fee title and easement over land jointly owned by TNC and Town of Haddam were released in conjunction with the transfer of property to USFWS as part of the Conte Wildlife Refuge.

Schedule D, Part II, Line 5 - The Nature Conservancy's written policy regarding the periodic monitoring, inspection, violations, and enforcement of the conservation easements it holds is governed by our Standard Operating Procedure, Conservation Easements and Deed Restrictions. Excerpts from the procedure regarding frequency and IRS Reporting follow. A. Monitoring Frequency: Except as provided in Section III herein, all Conservation Interests held by the Operating Unit will be monitored at least once each calendar year (annually), except that the Operating Unit Director, with appropriate Conservancy scientist input, may authorize less frequent monitoring for an individual Conservation Interest based upon a written analysis detailing the scientific and/or other justifications for such reduced frequency of monitoring. In no event, however, will the required monitoring frequency for a Conservation Interest be less than once every three years. B. Information Gathered for IRS Reporting Purposes: The IRS requires that the tax returns of non-profits include a range of information on the conservation easements it holds, or did hold at any time during the reporting tax year ("IRS-Reportable easements"). These requirements include a report of total staff hours and a list of expenses associated with monitoring and enforcing those easements. They also include a number of other questions, some of which are answered by required fields in the monitoring reports, and some of which are answered from Conservation Land System records. Note that that the IRS does not require reporting regarding monitoring of deed restrictions. Therefore monitoring of deed restrictions should not be considered to be "IRS-Reportable". 1. IRS-Reportable easements are those which the Conservancy currently holds or did hold during the current tax reporting year. Since Conservancy tax reporting is on the fiscal year and easement monitoring is on the calendar year, Operating Units must consult with their Conservation Land System staffer to determine when an easement that has been transferred to another organization by the Conservancy ceases to be "IRS-Reportable". 2. Time and Expense Reporting related to easements is required by the IRS. For every IRS-Reportable conservation easement all staff hours spent on "easement monitoring and enforcement" must be appropriately coded in bi-weekly time reports. Further, any funds spent on related costs, including travel expenses, must also be appropriately coded in the General Ledger. A dedicated sub-1 code (-8888) has been established for this purpose. Each Operating Unit must ensure that the budget centers utilized by members of each Monitoring Team have that sub-1 code established and available, and that it is utilized. This important information must be captured so that it can be included in our annual tax filing. With respect to Enforcement excerpts from the Standard Operating procedure follow. The holder of a conservation easement ("Easement") or a deed restriction ("Restriction") (collectively the "Conservation Interests") has a responsibility to enforce the terms of the Conservation Interest in perpetuity. The integrity of a Conservation Interest should never be compromised to avoid litigation. The success the Conservancy has in defending its Conservation Interests has a profound impact on both our organizational reputation and the effectiveness of easements generally. A well-articulated enforcement standard operating procedure and consistent application will help to ensure the ongoing effectiveness of the Conservancy's easement program. Prompt compliance with this procedure is required to ensure that the conservation purposes and values reflected in the Easement or Restriction are not lost through the passage of time.

Schedule D, Part II, Line 9 - The Nature Conservancy's reporting of conservation easements can be explained by the text of the following footnote from the audited financial statements. Land and Land Interests: The Conservancy records land and land interests at cost, if purchased, or at fair value at the date of acquisition, if all or part of the land was received as a donation. Fair value is generally determined by appraisal. These assets fall into three primary categories: * Conservation lands - real property with significant ecological value. These properties are either managed in an effort to protect the natural biological diversity of the property, or transferred to other organizations who will manage the lands in a similar fashion. * Trade lands - real property with minimal ecological value. These properties are sold to provide funds for The Conservancy to carry out its conservation work. * Conservation

Complete this part to provide the information required in Part I, line 2, and any additional information.

Schedule F, Part I, Line 2 - The Nature Conservancy's procedure for monitoring grants outside the United States is governed by the Government Grants, Cooperative Agreements, Contracts and Other Agreements Negotiation and Administration Standard Operating Procedure which is excerpted as follows: All staff responsible for government grants, cooperative agreements, contracts, and other agreements will negotiate and administer such awards in an efficient and effective manner. The Conservancy has a Grants Service Network to ensure that this occurs, including assuring compliance with all applicable funder statutes and regulations. The attached table assigns performance responsibilities to the key positions involved in the negotiation and administration of the following types of agreements: 1. agreements to the Conservancy from United States federal, state and local government agencies, multilateral agencies, and other national and local governments; and 2. the Conservancy's grants of funds to other entities, including those funded by a government agency, multilateral organization, other non-profit organization, private foundation, or private donor. Conservancy grants to other entities are also subject to the "Grants by the Nature Conservancy to Grantees" Standard Operating Procedure. In order to effectively manage these agreements and to ensure accountability, the Conservancy employs a team approach during all stages of the process, from pre-proposal discussions with potential funding agencies through final closeout of specific agreements. Working as a team assures that the Conservancy successfully secures government funding for conservation projects and carries out these projects in compliance with both external and internal requirements, negotiating the best possible agreements and ensuring the projects are completed on time and within budget. Essential team members are a Project Manager, a Grants Specialist, and an Attorney. As appropriate, team members at any stage of the process should solicit input from staff in their respective Operating Units, such as finance, philanthropy, external affairs or other conservation staff. Purpose: To ensure compliance with government laws and regulations and to ensure the efficient and effective management of funds provided by U.S. federal, state and local governments, other national and local governments, and multilateral sources by the Conservancy, as well as Conservancy funds provided to other entities.

Part III Supplemental Information

Complete this part to provide the information, explanation, or descriptions required for Part I, lines 1a, 1b, 4c, 5a, 5b, 6a, 6b, 7, and 8. Also complete this part for any additional information.

Schedule J, Part I, Line 1a - In connection with their employment related relocations from their previous homes, Mr. Tercek and Ms. Girvin-Argon received temporary housing allowances in order to defray the costs of maintaining duplicate homes during their transitions to the Washington, DC metro area. The allowances were treated as taxable income and are included in the amounts reported on Part VII and Schedule J.

Schedule J, Part I, Line 3 - The President and Chief Executive Officer's compensation is reviewed annually by the Board of Directors. In order to establish the reasonableness of his overall compensation, the Nature Conservancy engages an independent compensation consultant who utilizes Forms 990 from other organizations, as well as, compensation surveys and studies.

Schedule J, Part I, Line 4 - In connection with her separation from the Nature Conservancy, Rebecca Patton received severance in the amount of $150,000. She also received a distribution of an amount previously deferred under a supplemental nonqualified retirement plan in the amount of $20,727. All payments have been included in the amounts reported in Part VII and Schedule J.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Background information on The Nature Conservancy: Our Mission: The mission of The Nature Conservancy is to preserve the plants, animals and natural communities that represent the diversity of life on Earth by protecting the lands and waters they need to survive. Why We're Successful: we work to conserve the Earth's ecologically important lands and waters in local places across all 50 U.S. states and in more than 30 other countries around the world; we develop, analyze and use the best available science to prioritize our global conservation work and to ensure we implement the right strategies in the right places; we achieve tangible, lasting and measurable conservation results at scales that matter and in ways that will endure; we create innovative conservation solutions that benefit nature and enhance the well-being of people who depend on vital natural resources for their lives and livelihoods; we use our creativity, diplomacy, global reach and proven experience to tackle some of the world's most complex conservation challenges; we work respectfully and collaboratively with all sectors of society to achieve meaningful conservation results; and by showing that tangible, large-scale conservation results can be delivered, we provide hope that the Earth's special places can be restored and preserved for future generations. Accountability The Nature Conservancy is highly rated by charity watchdog organizations: the Nature Conservancy meets all of the Better Business Bureau (BBB) Wise Giving Alliance Standards for Charity Accountability; The American Institute of Philanthropy has awarded The Nature Conservancy a "Top-rated Charity" rating; the Nature Conservancy earned a three-star rating from Charity Navigator, indicating the organization "exceeds industry standards and outperforms most charities in its cause"; and the Nature Conservancy rated as the most trusted organization among 13 leading non-profit organizations, think tanks and associations in a poll by Harris Interactive®, as reported by The Chronicle of Philanthropy. Values: Integrity Beyond Reproach: We will meet the highest ethical and professional standards in all of our organizational endeavors and, in doing so, we hold ourselves accountable to our mission and to the public; Respect for People, Communities, and Cultures: Enduring conservation success depends on the active involvement of people and partners whose lives and livelihoods are linked to the natural systems we seek to conserve. We respect the needs, values and traditions of local communities and cultures, and we forge relationships based on mutual benefit and trust; Commitment to Diversity: We recognize that biological diversity conservation is best advanced by the leadership and contributions of men and women of diverse backgrounds, beliefs and cultures. We will recruit and mentor staff to create an inclusive organization that reflects our global character; One Conservancy: Our strength and vitality lie in being one organization working together in local places and across borders to achieve our global mission. We value the collective and collaborative efforts that are so essential to our success; and Tangible, Lasting Results: Our mission of preserving biological diversity guides everything we do. We use the best available science, a creative spirit, and a non-confrontational approach to craft innovative solutions to complex conservation problems at scales that matter and in ways that will endure.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 11 - Review Process for Form 990: The Form 990 is prepared, based on financial statements audited by PricewaterhouseCoopers, and other internally generated information by the Nature Conservancy's Director of Tax services. The Form is further reviewed by the Conservancy's Internal Audit Department (which provides independent verification of certain information), and members of Senior Management. As outlined in its charter, the Audit Committee then reviews any issues or judgments relating to disclosures in the Conservancy's Forms 990. Finally, copies are provided to the full Board of Directors for their comment prior to filing with the IRS.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c - The Nature Conservancy's monitoring and enforcement of its compliance policy is governed by its Conflict of Interest Standard Operating Procedure ("SOP") which is excerpted as follows: a conflict of interest exists when an individual who is responsible for acting in the best interests of The Nature Conservancy has another interest or loyalty that could influence or impair, or may appear to influence or impair, the individual's ability to act in the best interests of The Nature Conservancy. The term "conflict of interest" includes actual conflicts of interest potential conflicts of interest (situations that could become an actual conflict in the future based upon foreseeable events or the passage of time); and perceived conflicts of interest (situations that others could reasonably perceive to be, or have the appearance of a conflict of interest) Guiding principles: All Conservancy staff, Board Members and Trustees are responsible for identifying conflicts of interest, and disclosing them to the appropriate Conservancy manager or attorney. Conservancy employees must determine whether the conflict can or should be avoided to protect the best interests of the Conservancy. If it is not reasonably possible to avoid a particular conflict of interest or it is not in the Conservancy's best interest to avoid it, all staff, Board members and Trustees are responsible for fashioning appropriate strategies to mitigate and manage the potential adverse consequences of the conflict of interest, and obtaining approval as described in this Standard Operating Procedure before proceeding with the affected activity. Identifying Conflicts of Interest Before engaging in any activity on behalf of the Conservancy, Conservancy staff, Board Members and Trustees must identify and disclose any situations that could give rise to a conflict of interest or the appearance of a conflict. The Disclosure Form should be completed as early as possible by parties with whom the Conservancy plans to enter into a transaction. The Disclosure Form is not the only way that the Conservancy may become aware of a conflict. Thus, even if the Disclosure Form does not reveal a conflict, but you are aware of one, you must proceed in accordance with this SOP. Conflicts of interest are not always clear-cut and easy to define. They require case by case analysis. The Conservancy is concerned with the disclosure and management of conflicts of interests involving "covered persons." However, not all activities or transactions with a covered person generate conflicts of interest. Conversely, a particular factual situation may generate a conflict of interest even when no covered person is involved. Early consultation with a senior manager or Conservancy attorney can assist in analyzing the conflict of interest and strategies for avoidance or mitigation. This SOP sets forth specific guidance for some areas of potential conflicts (see Types of Conflicts below). These are only examples, and it is the responsibility of each individual to be sensitive to any situation that creates or appears to create a conflict of interest.

Reporting, Review and Approval Process: If a conflict is identified, the Conservancy staff member who is responsible for initiating and/or overseeing the proposed activity must report the conflict to his or her supervisor and the appropriate Conservancy attorney. Before proceeding with the proposed activity, review and approval to proceed must be obtained as described in this section. While a request for approval of a proposed course of action is pending or being considered, the individual involved in the conflict must refrain from participating in the activity and/or withdraw from any discussion of or decision on the matter.

1. Conflicts Committee Review: The Conflicts Committee reviews and makes determinations about all conflicts of interest involving the Conservancy. All conflicts of interests reviewed by the Conflicts Committee involving a Substantial Contributor shall be reported by the General Counsel or the Chief Compliance Officer to the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors, disclosing the nature of the conflict, parties involved, and the disposition of the conflict by the Conflicts Committee.

2. Review by Audit Committee: All conflicts of interest involving a member of the Board of Directors, a Director's family members, and a Director's Controlled Entities shall be submitted to the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors for review and disposition. Referral to the Audit Committee is made by the General Counsel on behalf of the Conflicts Committee along with the recommendation for disposition made by the Conflicts Committee.

3. Guiding Principles: In evaluating conflict situations in order to determine an appropriate course of action, the Conservancy will be guided by the following criteria and considerations: Availability of other alternatives that would avoid the conflict of interest; Compliance with the letter and the spirit of all applicable laws relevant to all parties to the transaction; Compliance with Conservancy Policies and Standard Operating Procedures; Adherence to the Conservancy's values, such as "Integrity Beyond Reproach;" Avoidance of private benefit and inurement; Transparency; Conservation benefits likely to be achieved; Consequences to the Conservancy from declining to participate; Financial or other benefits to the Conservancy; Financial or other benefits to the other party; Nature and extent of risk to the Conservancy's reputation; and Ability to mitigate reputational risks.

4. Forms: Responsibility for Recommended Action. Employees are required to complete and submit the Request for Conflicts Committee Approval form when seeking review and approval of a course of action involving an actual, potential, or perceived conflict of interest. The completed form should recommend a course of action that is designed to minimize the conflict's potential adverse consequences. The appropriate Conservancy attorney will review this form to ensure a thorough disclosure of the relevant information and analysis of the conflict. Other staff who approve the content of these forms and submission for approval are, by approving the forms, indicating that they support and are responsible for the recommended course of action.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15 - Review Process for Officer and Key Employee Compensation: The President and Chief Executive Officer's, as well as, members of the Executive Team's performances and compensation are reviewed annually by the Board of Directors. The performance and compensation of all other Key Employees is reviewed annually by their direct supervisor. All compensation amounts are based on information provided by an independent compensation consultant who utilizes comparable data from Form 990's from other organizations and compensation survey's and studies to ensure reasonableness.

First Program Service Accomplishments Description*Description

our conservation successes can be found on our Web site at www.nature.org. California's Independence Lake: The Conservancy purchased 2,325 acres of forestland that surround California's Independence Lake from NV Energy. The state of California, federal agencies, local nonprofits, private foundations and energy and water utilities aided our efforts to protect the lake, which safeguards an important source of drinking water for western Nevada and a critical watershed for California's water supply. The acquisition also supports the mainstay economy of the Sierra Nevada by providing a recreational outlet for sports enthusiasts, kayakers, and other nature lovers and supports one of the last two wild lake populations of the Lahontan cutthroat trout. Canada's Boreal Forest: Nine environmental groups and 21 timber companies signed a historic agreement that will protect 178 million acres of Canada's Boreal Forest. The agreement covers the largest amount of land ever involved in such conservation efforts and unites a coalition of forestry and conservation organizations to sustainably manage the forest while meeting the needs of local communities. Over the next three years, the Conservancy and other partners will work with the government, First Nations indigenous groups and local communities to develop the guidelines to direct how the forests are managed and logged. The Atlas of Global Conservation: On Earth Day 2010, the Conservancy and the University of California Press published The Atlas of Global Conservation, the world's first comprehensive collection of conservation maps. The book represents a collaboration of some 70 institutions, the work of hundreds of scientists, and thousands of hours of research and consolidation of incredibly specialized data. The book includes more than 100 full-color maps and charts of new information, such as where forests are disappearing most rapidly, as well as essays by leading conservation thinkers that put the information in its larger context. Marine Protected Area, Peru: After nearly a decade of promotion by the Conservancy and other groups, Peru has created its third marine protected area-the Guano Islands and Capes National Reserve. The new reserve covers nearly 350,000 acres distributed among 22 individual islands or groups of islands, 11 coastal capes and their surrounding marine spaces. The reserve lies within the Pacific Ocean's Humboldt Current marine ecosystem-a cold-water current flowing northward up the coasts of Chile and Peru-that is home to important sea bird and marine mammal populations and supplies more than 15 percent of the world's fish catch to people around the globe. Florida Everglades: The northern Everglades is a 3.5-million-acre landscape of cattle ranches, longleaf pine savannas and seasonal wetlands that forms a critical conservation resource. For decades, the Conservancy has helped protect hundreds of thousands of acres and identified appropriate northern Everglades properties for Natural Resources Conservation Service programs under the Farm Bill, assisted ranchers with participation and provided testimony to Washington decision-makers. In a major victory for nature, the U.S. Department of Agriculture dedicated $89 million for permanent conservation easements on 26,000 acres in the Fisheating Creek watershed at the headwaters of the Everglades ecosystem, the largest easement project in the program's history. Wild Bison in Mexico: Twenty-three bison are helping the Conservancy to restore Mexico's once-vast prairie ecosystem. The bison, donated by the U.S. National Park Service and taken to the Conservancy's El Uno Ecological Reserve in Chihuahua, Mexico, will serve as a "seed herd" for grassland recovery projects across the country. Bison provide a number of benefits to grasslands: breaking the soil so seeds can easily emerge, clipping the grass so other species may thrive and promoting water infiltration. Bison reintroduction is a key component to the Conservancy's grassland restoration efforts, which also include invasive species control, native grass restoration, prescribed fire and grassbanking. Forever Costa Rica: The Conservancy led a unique public-private partnership that launched Forever Costa Rica, a groundbreaking initiative that will at least double Costa Rica's marine protected areas, dramatically improve protected area management and provide necessary financing to sustain these efforts in perpetuity. The partnership has mobilized over $50 million, including $29 million in private donations to the Conservancy and a $27 million debt-for-nature swap with the U.S. government, in which the Conservancy is a private counterpart. The goal is to meet Costa Rica's commitments under the U.N. Convention on Biological Diversity by 2015. Indigenous Protected Areas, Australia: Two new protected areas in northern Australia totaling 5 million acres will protect important natural areas such as tropical savannas, gorges, rivers and wetlands, as well as rock art paintings that date back 40,000 years. The Conservancy assisted in the declaration of the Warddeken and Djelk indigenous protected areas by providing financial assistance, scientific expertise and strategic advice. The process involved members of more than 137 indigenous clans in the region and helped develop detailed management plans that will guide future land practices and provide sustainable livelihoods for indigenous rangers. New Tool, Great Lakes: The introduction of Asian carp poses a threat to U.S. lakes and rivers because, due to their large size and voracious appetites, they could significantly disrupt the food chain. The Conservancy and the University of Notre Dame have developed an innovative new method to detect the presence of this invasive species: capturing and amplifying DNA sloughed off by fish to identify bighead and silver carp. This early detection method could help prevent the establishment of a self-sustaining population. The method was proven effective after the capture of a carp in Illinois' Lake Calumet. Amazon, Brazil: Paragominas, a municipality in the Brazilian state of Pará, recently became the first municipality to come off the government's blacklist of deforesters, a designation that results in commercial embargoes and credit restrictions for rural farmers. With the Conservancy's help, the municipality met the two requirements to be taken off the list: dramatically reducing deforestation and registering more than 80 percent of its territory in the Farmland Environmental Registry (CAR). Other Brazilian municipalities are now looking to the Paragominas model to control deforestation, and several will be working with the Conservancy to develop more forest-friendly ranching practices and economic alternatives. As always, the Conservancy uses a science-based approach to determine where to work, what to conserve, and what strategies to employ. The Conservancy cannot achieve this goal alone. It will require partnering with governments, businesses, non-profits, communities and individuals. The Conservancy will also work closely with communities to protect the lands and waters they rely on for their daily survival. The significant achievements made in the past year are just the beginning. With conservation becoming a major part of public discourse, the Conservancy is set to expand and accelerate conservation on a global scale.
