H. R. 6355

To amend the Endangered Species Act of 1973 to define petition backlogs and provide expedited means for discharging petitions during such a backlog.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JULY 12, 2018

Mr. WESTERMAN (for himself, Mr. BIGGS, Mr. BISHOP of Utah, Mr. CRAMER, Mr. DUNCAN of South Carolina, Mr. GOSAR, Mr. NORMAN, Mr. ABRAHAM, Mr. LUETKEMEYER, Mr. SMITH of Missouri, Mr. BANKS of Indiana, Mrs. NOEM, Mr. STEWART, Mr. COLLINS of Georgia, Mr. MCCLINTOCK, Mr. ESTES of Kansas, Mr. GOHMERT, and Mr. NEWHOUSE) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Natural Resources

A BILL

To amend the Endangered Species Act of 1973 to define petition backlogs and provide expedited means for discharging petitions during such a backlog.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Providing ESA Timing
5 Improvements That Increase Opportunities for Nonlisting
6 Act of 2018” or the “PETITION Act of 2018”.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

2 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

3 (1) The number and type of species-listing peti-
4 tions received by the United States Fish and Wild-
5 life Service (in this Act referred to as the “Service”)
6 during the last two decades under the Endangered
7 Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.) rou-
8 tinely outstrip the capacity of the agency to process
9 all such petitions within the timeframes required by 10 that statute, constituting a petition backlog.

11 (2) A significant portion of petitions in the 12 backlog would ultimately be rejected as having failed
13 to contain substantial information, or containing 14 substantial information but not meriting a listing of 15 a species as an endangered species or threatened
16 species, if the Service were to issue findings on 17 them.

18 (3) The petition system has been overloaded
19 with influxes of petitions submitted by well-funded
20 petitioners with the express intention of creating a
21 backlog that causes the Service to fail to adhere to 22 timeframes established in the Endangered Species
23 Act of 1973.

24 (4) The deficit between total received petitions
25 and petitions processed within statutory timeframes
26 results in the Federal Government being exposed to

1 legal liability on the basis of such a backlog, in ac-
2 cordance with such intention of petitioners.

3 (5) Ensuing litigation initiated by such peti-
4 tioners results in the Service agreeing to or being
5 court-ordered to adhere to adverse timeframes, list-
6 ing decisions, and settlements.

7 (6) Such litigation secures listings for species
8 and habitat designations for which the Service would 9 otherwise not issue a positive finding on the basis of 10 its regular, procedural evaluation of a petition.

11 (7) Accordingly, such listings and designations
12 are agreed or adhered to contrary to the public in-
13 terest insofar as the public benefits from faithful
14 execution of duly passed laws.

15 (8) A statutory remedy is necessary to address
16 the backlog of the Service and to prevent such statu-
17 tory abuse while maintaining proper open channels
18 for qualifying species to be listed as threatened spe-
19 cies or endangered species.

20 (b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are the fol-
21 lowing:

22 (1) To maintain safeguards and pathways to
23 listing of species as endangered species or threat-
24 ened species, along with all corresponding protec-
25 tions thereof, for any imperiled species.

1 (2) To limit unnecessary legal liability of the
2 Federal Government arising from any backlog of pe-
3 titions received under the Endangered Species Act of 4 1973.

5 (3) To prevent adverse court orders and settle-
6 ments arising when such liability is exploited in liti-
7 gation.

8 (4) To accomplish all of the foregoing by reduc-
9 ing and eliminating the backlog of excess petitions
10 received by the Service under the Endangered Spe-
11 cies Act of 1973.

12 SEC. 3. DEFINITIONS.

13 Section 2 of the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16
14 U.S.C. 1531) is amended—
